About the Seminar:

Indian Knowledge System
Indian civilisation is a treasure trove of knowledge since ancient time. It has huge literature in several languages and scripts and also there are rich oral tradition along side with those. It is difficult to map the evolution of knowledge in India in different genre. The phrase almost includes everything, such as languages literatures, philosophy, arts, science and technology, medicine, astronomy, architecture, agriculture as well as in governance, policy etc. As Patańjali says the field of knowledge is huge, the scope of this field is also huge. Without the knowledge of ancient texts, it is difficult to pursue new scope in these field. Hope the study in this field would bring out new dimension in ancient and as well as in contemporary field.

As it is mentioned the scope of this field is huge, participants could send paper in any field of Indology. They could also write about the significance and relevance of ancient knowledge in modern contemporary world. Here some topics are given below, but participants can also choose other topics related to the theme of seminar.

Suggested topics:

Vedic Studies
Indian Philosophical System
Literature
Indian Linguistics Tradition
Ancient Indian Medicine
Ancient Indian Technology
Ancient Indian Agriculture
Indian Ethics
Ancient Indian Policy and Governance
